Hannah: it's for any students learning remotely so that can include off campus

Katie R: for the person that can apply do you prefer an on campus or flex?

Hannah: as the job description reads, they are a flex student since it would be good to have a flex student represent other flex students. That may make things more difficult, but it would be worth it

Constituency Reports

Stewart

Tim: saw more bonding this week, it has been louder than last year, but it is good to hear. People have made tacos that smelled good.

McMillan

Jaedon: Similar to last week, people getting together playing board games especially with online classes, also some frofing

Off Campus

David: Relatively quiet but also haven't heard much since were all online. Have heard that some people say they feel it's hard to get out of homework mindset.

Ballard

Meghan: Pretty good some of the girls talked and said they wanted more events felt that Mac was doing more stuff and lacking community.

Oliver

Olivia: Doing good had first fire drill lots of people learned also found out they are turning off power on Saturday and heard some concern since we don't have AC and trying to figure that out. Also, WIFI is not working so talking to IT but lots of people using ping pong table and piano.

Boppell

Jed: Boppell has been quiet had first office hours not too successful but people I talked to seemed happy and they are self-sustaining. People not happy with weather but getting better. We will also have our first fire drill tomorrow

Campus Vibes

Parker: Banbury bros have brought back taco Tuesdays and will be happening every week.

Tim: important to remind everyone to encourage mask wearing and social distancing. This week I have noticed a few people with masks down inside and larger gathering.

Rachel: campus ministry news, tomorrow life groups close and they are zoom based. Also hoping to have chapel soon if weather is good chapel will be in the loop. Encourage people to attend.

Hannah: verbalize what Sam and Emily said that for students a reminder to wash your masks and not wear for more than 2 days in a row.

Jason: I've talked to a few people about this but some of the execs passed constructive criticism to care team of quarantine experience and set up a meeting to talk about experience and ways for them to improve and how ASWU can help.

Parker: also adding on at council they gave us number and from the testing they have done there have been very little classes, only 3 cases right now. If someone in your class tests positive don't worry since that's not considered a close contact. Want to test 5% of students on and off campus. If someone breaks a policy that is conduct violation.

Loren: what if we are selected and they refuse?

Parker: they are not mandatory since whitworth can't force people

Jason: it is completely voluntary they get an email and they can opt out. There have been 2 changes to handbook including the public health policy and community cooperation guidelines to ensure people follow those rules.

Katie R: in my experience getting tested, even though test was free I had to show insurance so what happens to students who don't have insurance?

Jason: for random testing the school is covering all costs so they don't even have to show insurance.

Admin Updates

Jorge: It is David's birthday on Friday so there is a surprise for David in his mailbox.
